

Lyme Education Ambassador Program
Fundraising Ambassador Job Description:

Description: LEAP is a volunteer program with an aim at raising Lyme disease and other tick-borne disease awareness. Our Fundraising Ambassadors are invited to complete grass root fundraisers to raise money and awareness for GLA. Fundraising options include but are not limited to:

- Online fundraisers
- Community walks or events
- Round up programs at local businesses
- Any fundraisers that can be executed by the Ambassador in their community.

Requirements: GLA expects that LEAP Fundraising Ambassadors complete one fundraiser a year.

Training: GLA will provide an orientation for all new LEAP members which includes a presentation on job requirements and expectations. Program Manager, Kristen Harris will coordinate with all ambassadors. Once orientation is complete, ambassadors will present their fundraiser ideas to Kristen for GLA approval. GLA will then provide the necessary literature, giveaways or information for your fundraising event.

About GLA's LEAP Program: GLA's Education network has the potential to reach over 4,000 people across the United States either in-person or via social media. To date, there are over 100 Ambassadors worldwide supporting GLA's educational initiatives. GLA is lucky to have representation in several major metropolitan areas across the country.
